SEC. ACHESON ASKS SUPPORT FOR AID PLAN

In Speech Before Governors Cabinet Member Says Program Essential To Backward Nations

URGES APPROPRIATION

BULLETIN
White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., June 20—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson told the nation's governors today that the State Department is "a good, clean loyal outfit." Answering questions put to him by governors at a round table discussion, the secretary answered—without mentioning the source—charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that the department is infested with Communists. Contrary to this, Acheson said that he has "no worries about my associates."

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., June 20—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson appealed to the nation's governors today to support President Truman's program of aid for the world's backward areas.

"By aiding the people of underdeveloped areas to deal with their basic problems of food, health and education," he said, "we shall be strengthening their resistance against extremism of whatever kind."

Acheson spoke before the state governors who have gathered for a four-day study of domestic and world problems.

In his prepared speech, the secretary dealt entirely with United States efforts to help strengthen the free world and maintain world peace.

The administration has advanced the aid to backward areas program—called "point four"—after its position in President Truman's inaugural address—as an important address—as an important address—as an important address—

West European Nations Open Historic Conference To Pool Coal and Steel Production

Paris, June 20—(P)—Six western European nations opened a historic conference today aimed at pooling their coal and steel production. French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, father of the plan, told the delegates the ultimate aim was to abolish war from the continent of Europe.

Britain remained on the sidelines, although she will be kept informed on what goes on in the elaborate Salon De L'Horloge (Clock Room) of the French foreign ministry. There was some talk that the British were coming around to the view that the advantages of joining the plan might outweigh the disadvantages. Schuman said he hoped Britain eventually would join.

Schuman told delegates of France, Western Germany, Belgium, Italy, The Netherlands and Luxembourg that there would be great political benefits in a plan which stems from a French-German understanding.

By welding Germany and France together in this common effort, Schuman said, the nations would provide the "certainty thus to banish from our European community of latent cause of trouble, suspicion and anguish." On this basis, then, the nations could erect "a solid European edifice accessible to all nations of good will."

The French minister reminded the delegates that their governments would have agreed on an unprecedented objective—to decide on the best manner of applying the principle of a supranational authority and anguish. On this basis, this authority would mean the surrender of some sovereignty by the nations.

Schuman expressed a hope that the British later would join the pool.

"We cannot conceive of Europe without her," he declared, adding, "we know—and thus reassures us—that the British government hopes for the success of our work."

Following today's opening meeting, the delegates will hold secret sessions to plan details of the working of the pool and its controlling authority.

Britain, wary of giving final control of her vast coal and steel industries to someone else, will be informed in detail of the progress of the talks. Foreign office economist Herve Alphand will confer daily with British minister in Paris William Hayter, supplying details for a nightly report to London.

HURLEY ASKED BY PROBES TO ELABORATE

Former U. S. Ambassador to China Gets Bid From Investigators to Appear and Testify

STATEMENT IS ISSUED

Washington, June 30—(P)—Patrick J. Hurley, former U. S. ambassador to China, got a bid today from senate investigators to elaborate on his charge that the State Department had shielded officials who "sold or gave" top secret documents to "pro-Communists."

Hurley made the charge yesterday in a statement issued at Santa Fe, N. M. It was linked to the 1945 Amerasia documents theft case now under investigation by a senate foreign relations subcommittee.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md) told reporters the committee would call Hurley to testify as soon as possible. Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), a committee member, also urged Hurley's appearance.

Hurley charged that the State Department has for five years "kept the people from knowing the truth about the theft of top secret documents by officials of the State Department who sold or gave them to pro-Communists."

He also accused State Department officials, both in China and in Washington, of sabotaging American policy in China while he was ambassador there in 1944 and 1945.

Hurley named John S. Service, State Department foreign service officer, as one of the persons who he said supplied Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-Tung with secret information in 1944.

Service was one of the six persons arrested in 1945 after federal raiders had seized hundreds of government documents in the New York office of Amerasia magazine. He was not indicted.

Tomorrow the committee plans to take testimony from John E. Peurifoy, deputy undersecretary of state. McCarthy charged in a speech last Thursday that Peurifoy made a "pay-off" deal with a witness to protect Service in testimony before the committee.

McCarthy named the witness as Emmanuel Larsen, a former state department employee and a co-defendant in the Amerasia case. Larsen testified before the committee recently behind closed doors.

BLOOD BANK STARTED: Representatives of the American Red Cross Regional Blood Center at Buffalo deliver the first shipment of blood for a blood bank at Warren General Hospital. The blood was obtained from donors who visited the Warren Red Cross Service Center last week. Additional donors are needed for the next visits of the Bloodmobile here on July 12 and August 9. The blood was delivered to the local hospital yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Curtis A. Rhodes, driver for the Red Cross Motor Corps, and Mrs. H. G. Bordwell, of Buffalo, vice chairman of the Motor Corps. On hand to receive the shipment were Hospital Superintendent Mrs. Hazel M. Smith and Miss Clara Hammer, director of nurses, representing the hospital; and Howard Lauffenberger, chairman of the local Red Cross blood program; Dr. Warren Lowe, chairman of the Medical advisory committee; Mrs. William E. Rice, publicity director; and Mrs. Raymond W. Steber, chairman of volunteer services. (Times-Mirror Photo)

Officers For Coming Year Are Elected By Directors of the Red Cross Chapter

Following a lengthy membership meeting in which annual reports were heard and directors elected, the board of Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross, held its June meeting in Chapter headquarters last night and named the following to serve as officers in the coming year:

Chairman, B. S. Knabenshue; first vice chairman, C. J. Crary; second vice chairman, J. A. Alexander; secretary, Mrs. E. G. Hamilton; treasurer, Paul Harrington; assistant treasurer, H. N. Elmqvist. Serving as the nominating committee to select the slate were:

J. W. A. Luce, Mrs. W. F. Clinger and Warren E. Miller. A rising vote of thanks was extended by board members to W. S. Clark, who has served most efficiently as secretary for a number of years.

Mr. Elmqvist presented for the board's approval an estimated budget of $13,582 for the coming year; Harold McNulty and Harold Bengtson were appointed as auditors; Mr. Luce was appointed as property chairman; and Fred Bauer, Sugar Grove, was elected to the board to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Frank Dorn. Staff members were re-elected for another year at their current salaries.

Mr. Knabenshue conducted both the board meeting and the earlier members' session. Presented for election by the nominating committee, Mrs. Mabel C. Bucklin, Mrs. H. D. Hubbs and Carroll R. Smith, the following were chosen to serve as directors: C. J. Crary, H. N. Elmqvist, Roy Junsola, Howard Lauffenberger, Kenneth Williams, Mrs. E. G. Hamilton, J. W. A. Luce and Ray Thompson.

Eighteen members were present to hear the annual reports presented by Mrs. E. G. Hamilton for home service; John Allen, water safety; Mrs. W. F. Clinger, home nursing; Mrs. R. W. Steber, volunteer services; Mrs. R. G. Dawson, Gray Ladies; finances, Paul Harrington.

In his report, Mr. Allen stressed the need for an instructors' course for the water safety program, and in all reports, the need of greater interest and cooperation throughout the entire county was stressed. Read by Mr. Knabenshue in the absence of the chairmen were reports of Howard Lauffenberger for the Blood Donor Program; Warren E. Miller, for Junior Red Cross, and for Roy Junsola, for the disaster relief committee which works in cooperation with the county committee headed by Sanford Secor.

Workers were most enthusiastic in their comment on the success of the first Bloodmobile visit here last Wednesday, reporting the processed blood had been returned to Warren General and Warren State Hospitals yesterday. The problem of recruiting adequate donors for the program was discussed at length, as was the matter of making rural areas of the county more Red Cross conscious. Scheduled dates for the next visits of the Buffalo Bloodmobile are July 12 and August 9.

Also before the membership meeting was revision of existing by-laws to better conform with suggestions made by the national organization, dealing particularly with membership on the board.

Eighth Entry Received In Drum Corps Contest

The eighth entry for the Class A drum corps competition to be held at War Memorial Field on the afternoon of the Fourth of July was received today from The White-Indians-on-the-March corps, sponsored by the Salamancas, N. Y. VFW Post, according to Jack Barr, co-chairman with Ben Kinnear for this event on the celebration schedule. The Salamancas corps is composed of 62 men, and wears military type uniforms of green and white.

The latest entry will make it necessary to have at least 23 divisions in the Independence Day parade, which, in the opinion of those connected with the affair, will be one of the longest and most spectacular ever held in Warren.

LEADERS PUSH TAX CUT BILL TOWARD VOTE

Measure Designed to Meet Truman's Requirements Is Passed in the House

SLASHES MANY LEVIES

Washington, June 30—(P)—Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the tax-framing house ways and means committee said today he believes a $433,000,000 tax boost the committee has voted for corporations "goes too far."

The top Democratic tax manager disclosed in an interview that the committee put the boost into its general tax bill over his personal opposition. He said 14 committee Democrats voted for it. He and 10 Republicans were opposed.

Doughton did not indicate what position he would take when the bill goes to the house floor next week for a vote.

If he openly opposed the rise then, his position might be decisive in event of a close division in the house. As chairman of the committee, Doughton will be in charge of the bill. He also wields considerable personal influence with many legislators on tax matters.

The bill cuts excise taxes by $1,010,000,000. The boost in corporate taxes was designed to offset this cut in part and win presidential approval of the measure.

The house ways and means committee voted $433,000,000 in new taxes late yesterday. It was designed to meet President Truman's requirement that the excise taxes must be offset by larger taxes elsewhere, before he will sign the bill.

This would cut the tax load of small corporations earning from $5,000 to $167,000; but jump the present 38 per cent income tax rate for the biggest corporations to almost 41 per cent.

Administration leaders immediately predicted the tax bill, in a form suitable to the president will be handed to the White House in time for congress to adjourn July 31.

However, this schedule assumes prompt approval by the house, where the bill is expected to come (Turn to Page Five)

Victim of Season's First Drowning At Chautauqua Lake Has Relatives Here

Lakewood, June 20—A village boy's fishing jaunt ended in his death last evening when he fell off the end of a dock into the waters of Chautauqua Lake.

The limp body of 9-year-old Harold Conner was recovered about two hours later after Lakewood firemen and others had churned the waters in a frantic effort to bring him up before life ebbed from his body.

Firemen labored over the lad for an hour with oxygen tanks in a forlorn last hope before Dr. Morris Bowman pronounced him dead.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Powers Funeral Home.

The drowning, Chautauqua Lake's first of the season and the third in the county this year, took place off the end of the breakwater beside the boathouse where the Lakewood fire department keeps its rescue equipment.

Harold, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Junius Conner, 2 East Summit street, was a fourth grader at Southwest Central School in Lakewood. His father, who has been blind for 12 years, worked during the war at Marlin-Rockwell, and a brother, George 21, had recently returned from Anchorage.

First Product Is Mentalist Will Turned Out In New Be Presented At Titusville Factory Local Night Spot

Titusville Herald: An inexperienced shift of 12 girls sat down at strange machines yesterday morning at the Titusville plant of Ruel H. Smith Enterprises, on the Pleasantville road, and before the end of eight hours the first box of small electrical assemblies was ready for shipment and hundreds more parts were ready for packaging.

The first day's work was greatly pleasing to Mr. Smith, who was here to see how things were getting along, and to Paul R. Raupach, general superintendent of the local plant.

Yesterday was just four weeks to a day after the decision had been made by Mr. Smith to lease the Titusville plant and start to work. Much was done in those 28 days—wiring, plumbing, partitioning, installation of machinery—and the first shift worked against a background of that sort of thing still in progress.

In addition to new employees, carpenters and electricians, the plant was swarming with instructors, technical consultants and engineers yesterday. Plans were being pushed for the erection of still more equipment.

Twelve more people will go to work today, twenty-one next Monday and eight the following Wednesday. By mid-July, officials expect to have 48 on the payroll.

The product that was packaged ready for shipment yesterday was a starter socket for fluorescent fixtures. The metal parts for it come from plants in Pennsylvania and New York State, and the plastic parts from Warren, Pa., and New England. Titusville does the assembling.

ST. MARYS STRIKE ENDS

A strike of more than three months duration was ended Monday at the Quaker State Oil refinery corporation's St. Marys plant. Supt. T. A. Anderson said that all 125 members of the CIO Oil Workers Union who walked off their jobs March 9 were back at their posts without a new contract. International Representative Harry Drenner, of the union, said the decision to return was reached at a meeting of the plant local's membership. He said the workers were "forced" to go back under provisions of the Taft-Hartley law giving management the right to replace employees if they do not report back to work in such a dispute within three days after ordered by the company to do so.

Proposal to Convert River Bank Into Parking Area Draws Citizen's Protest

The sentiments expressed in the following letter, written by William H. Wright, to the president of the borough council, pertaining to an agitation started by a councilman, to convert the Pennsylvania avenue river bank from Poplar street west, into a parking area, will be heartily endorsed by all citizens who are interested in preserving the beautiful areas of the town:

1 Fourth Avenue,
Warren, Pa.,
June 18, 1950.

President,
The Borough Council,
Warren, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I sincerely hope the Borough Council will not give serious consideration to the recent proposal to convert the Pennsylvania Avenue river bank from Poplar street west into a parking area.

Warren's first and greatest asset is certainly its natural beauty. The greatest single factor in that beauty is the long, curving sweep of river bank as one comes in from the west, beginning at the railroad bridge and completed by the concrete bridge in the center of town. This must be obvious to everyone, since it is universally commented on not only by strangers but even by our own citizens who might presumably have grown in different to it from long association. This is true in the daytime and equally at night, with the lights of Warren reflecting up from the river.

I do not intend to write either an ode or a dithyramb. Many well-intentioned people suppose there is a sharp divergence between the beautiful and the practical; that the two concepts are mutually exclusive. I cannot agree. The quality of natural beauty—such as the river affords us in that long stretch—has dollar-and-cents value to the entire community, particularly to hotels, tourist homes, restaurants, and all businesses that benefit from tourist trade. Even if it had not—if it had nothing more than the ability to lighten and refresh the spirit—it would still be a mighty poor idea to cut off the view of the river with a line of parked cars.

I believe the original plan for Warren, drawn by General Irvine and Andrew Ellicott about 1795, provided that the banks of both the Allegheny and the Conewango should be kept open for parkway purposes. If that had been done our town would be even more beautiful than it is. However, some of our grandfathers scotched that, no doubt on "practical" grounds. Let us not be similarly foolish.

Thank you and the Council for the time and consideration they have given this letter.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM H. WRIGHT.

Celebration Briefs

Jaycee members Chuck Tranter and Bob Daye, who are in charge of the Variety Show to be held the evening of July 3rd on the Beatty School lawn, announced that most details have been ironed out and they will publish the list of acts very shortly. From all indications, it will be a bang-up performance. There will be acts of all types which will certainly assure a wide variety of entertainment. Many surprises, too!

The most often asked question is: "Who will be the celebration queen?" We'll all know about 9:30 Friday evening.

The block of Second street between Liberty street and Pennsylvania avenue is certainly a busy one. It will be used twice in conjunction with the Jaycee Fourth of July Celebration. The choosing of the queen will take place there on Friday evening, June 23, and it will be the scene of the street dance following the Variety Show on the evening of July 3.

Jaycee member John Haggerty finds himself a very busy young man these days. Johnny is the celebration treasurer and the many duties of that job really keep him hopping.

Incidentally, if you haven't already contributed to the celebration fund, send a check or cash to John Haggerty, c-o Warren National Bank or you may contact any Jaycee member.

Many novel ideas have been advanced for floats to appear in the gigantic parade the morning of the Fourth. Any organization or firm who desires to enter a float in the parade should contact Jaycee member John Newmaker at once. The parade committee will meet shortly to draft the first parade orders and it will make their job easier if they have some idea about how many floats will be entered.

A small charge to help defray expenses will be made for the drum corps competition on the afternoon of July 4. Adults 60c and students over 10 years of age 30c. All children under 10 will be admitted free of charge. In comparison with other competitions which have been held in this section, this admission charge is very cheap.

Spectators are in for a real afternoon of entertainment. Plus the fact that the corps entering the contest are of extremely high calibre, Warrenites and guests will be treated to an exhibition by the Toronto Canadian Pipe Band and some precision maneuvers by two high class drill teams prior to the actual competition. Such an array of talent would bring about three times the price in other places but your Celebration Committee is purposely keeping the admission low for the convenience of everyone.

The parade committee received word today that the Youngsville band will definitely be in the parade on Independence Day. Word has also been received that the popular Jamestown American Legion drum and bugle corps is planning to participate.

Zem Zem Shriners Slate Golf Tourney

The Zem Zem Shriners Golf League of the Northwestern Pennsylvania district will hold their monthly golf match at the Conewango Valley Country Club on Wednesday, June 21.

The match will be an 18 hole affair, with prizes to be awarded for the best scratch and handicap scores.

These monthly tourneys usually draw between 35 and 40 entries. Play will start at 2 p. m., followed by a dinner at 7 o'clock.

The local committee in charge of arrangements includes Nat Drake, chairman, Horace Cray and Dean Anderson.

FREDONIA SHOW

W. R. Shelkey, who with his wife, operates the Fredonia Antiques Show, Grange Hall, Fredonia, N. Y., scheduled for July 11, 12 and 13 was in town Monday in the interest of the project. The Shelkeys usually exhibit at the Woman's Club show, but this year, were unable to do so because of press of other business. However, he paid Warren a fine tribute declaring it one of the best he has visited in a long time.

ATTEND WORKSHOP

Among schoolmen of this section attending the secondary education workshop at Edinboro State Teachers College Monday were H. D. Harris, principal, and H. H. Nichols, faculty member of Beatty Junior High School. Included on the steering committee are Principal Floyd Bathurst, of Warren High School, and E. C. Stillings, principal of Youngsville High School.

ATTENTION, SYLVANIA WORKERS! Tomorrow Is YOUR Day!

Tomorrow, June 21, is Opportunity Day for Sylvania workers in Warren. For tomorrow we will be voting in a secret government election for the union we want to represent us in bargaining with management.

And our choice is clear.

Tomorrow we will make Opportunity Day a day of victory for Sylvania workers and for the whole community of Warren.

Because we, the workers at Sylvania, are going to vote IUE-CIO by an overwhelming majority. Our votes will strike a death blow at Communism in the labor movement. Our votes will make us a part of a union which already has a quarter of a million members and is a part of the six million strong CIO.

As citizens, we reject the UE because it has been condemned as Communist by the government, by its own members, and by the rest of organized labor.

The Committee on Labor of the U. S. Congress has said: "The hold of the Communists on America's electrical industry is the hold of Soviet Russia. It is Communism in action—now!"

As workers we reject the UE because it has failed to protect our interests and win us that better way of life for which we strive.

We want no part of a weak and independent organization like the UE. We need the strength of CIO, so that we, too, can enjoy higher wages, better working conditions, company-paid pensions and health insurance.

Sylvania Workers! VOTE IUE-CIO

AS CITIZENS AND AS WORKERS WE SUPPORT THE IUE-CIO, A DEMOCRATIC AND AGGRESSIVE UNION WHICH CAN WIN FOR US, THROUGH THE STRENGTH OF CIO'S SIX MILLION MEMBERS, OUR JUST DEMANDS FROM MANAGEMENT.

IN ORDER TO PROTECT OUR COMMUNITY AND OUR NATION, IN ORDER TO SAFEGUARD OUR OWN WELFARE, WE WILL VOTE IUE-CIO TOMORROW.

RENT CONTROLS KEPT ALIVE

The passage of a rent control bill by both houses of Congress is a victory for President Truman, albeit almost wholly a political triumph.

At the start of the year prospects for extension of federal controls seemed dim. The president wanted them continued a year beyond the June 30 deadline; he got only half that, but controls are being kept alive.

As Bruce Blossat, NEA writer says in an editorial, he achieved this much largely because this is an election year and many congressmen from large cities feared reprisals at the polls if they allowed controls to lapse. Surely Mr. Truman is well aware of the issue's political potency.

If you strip away the political covering, what is the merit of the rent control argument in 1950?

Price controls are long since gone from every other area of American life. Is there any justice in continuing them on housing alone?

A fair answer would seem to be that so long as a general housing shortage existed rent ceilings federally governed were a wise and proper measure. For the theory behind any price control is to block an upward price surge when demand for a product clearly outruns supply.

Unless all signs are wrong, there has been no general shortage of living space in this country for a long time. Serious deficiencies continue in many localities, but the impact of three years of heavy private building gradually is making itself felt in more and more areas.

Perhaps the whole matter thus should have been turned back to the states and cities last year or earlier. They do have power to decontrol if they feel their situation warrants, and a lot of sections have exercised that power. But by staying in the picture, the federal government has given other areas an excuse for not establishing their own controls—as would seem more sensible.

New York and Wisconsin already are operating under state rent controls. Their initiative unhappily hasn't been widely copied. The time has come to leave the problem to the places where shortages still exist. They've leaned on Washington long enough for protection.

The new extension won't go beyond next January. Controls should stay wherever there is real housing lack. But the dots on the national shortage map are no longer big enough to be the concern of Washington.

BACK TO 'SPLENDID ISOLATION'?

Britain's friends in America can only feel rather embarrassed at the short-sighted, partisan, isolationist policy statement of the British Labor Party on the issue of European unity.

Prime Minister Clement Attlee since has made some effort in the House of Commons to convince Europe and us that his government does not go along the whole way with this party view. Still, he appears only to have muddled matters worse.

To Americans it sounds plain enough: Britain is selfishly bent on insulating her socialist experiments at whatever cost in vitally needed co-operation with the remainder of free Europe. At a moment in history when her traditional leadership would count most heavily, she seems intent on turning inward and letting Europe go hang.

Free peoples of the Atlantic area can only hope this manifesto does not reflect the sentiment of all Britons.

DISTINGUISHED CANDIDATE

Some of his critics suggest that 71-year-old James F. Byrnes is running for the South Carolina governorship because he still has higher ambitions.

But those who appear to know him best believe he means it when he says he has no thought of any other office. He wants to be governor because he believes he'll thus have a chance to combat big government, which he sees as a growing menace on the American scene.

Whatever his motive for running, there's something to be gained by every believer in democracy just from the fact that he's a candidate. Behind him is a career as senator, Supreme Court justice, assistant president, secretary of state. He needs no new laurels and probably seeks none. He is honoring the office by seeking it, and honoring the democratic system in the process.

It will doubtless be learned with surprise and disappointment by many in the borough and county that a preliminary announcement of the population of Warren county resulting from the recent decennial census shows that there are 74 less residents in the borough now than in 1940 when the last census was taken, and the county as a whole shows a loss of 310. Unofficial estimates in recent years placed the borough in the 15,000 class. The unofficial count to date lists the county as 42,479 persons as compared to 42,789 in 1940. The borough figures are 14,817 in 1950, as compared to 14,891 ten years ago.

The delegation from the Warren County Shrine Club in attendance at the annual convention in Los Angeles this week, was scheduled to arrive in Spokane June 18th, according to a clipping from the "Spokane Daily Chronicle," mailed us by our "special correspondent" on the train. The newspaper article says:

A special Northern Pacific train carrying 184 Shriners from Almas temple, Washington, D. C., will arrive in Spokane Friday at 7:05 p. m. en route to the Shrine convention at Los Angeles.

First of the convention-bound Shriners to reach Spokane was a delegation of 200 from Boston. Arriving here Sunday on a Northern Pacific Special, they were greeted by Judge Carl C. Quackenbush, potentate of El Katif temple, and other Shriners.

Last night two Milwaukee speakers brought 440 members of Zor temple, Madison, Wis., along with a herd of dromedary camels.

Tonight 38 members of the Zor temple, Madison, Wis., will arrive in Spokane on the Northern Pacific at 8:25. They will be here for only a short time.

Thursday morning the famous Abu-Bekr white horse patrol from Sioux City will reach the city and will remain for afternoon and evening performances at Ferris field. Appearance here is being sponsored by El Katif temple.

Railway officials said many of the specials are routed through Spokane following the convention, June 19 to 23. One large delegation is that of Mohamed temple, Peoria, Ill., making the return trip via Great Northern and due here Monday, June 26.

Second of three dispatches on the American Guard and political reform in Indiana.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

American Guard's Campaign Paid Off in Indiana Primary

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Service Correspondent

ANDERSON, Ind.—(NEA)—When the organizers of the Anderson American Guard decided to launch their good government movement to clean up local political conditions, they figured that the cost of educating the voters and arousing public interest would be about one dollar per head. Madison County has a population of about 100,000. That meant a budget of $100,000 for a 15-month period—October, 1949 to December, 1950. This would carry them through the May, 1950 primary and the November election.

Actually, the Guard's executive director, young C. O. "Chuck" Harbaugh, says it has operated on something less than that. He estimates costs will be about $75,000. Most of this has gone for printing, newspaper advertising and radio time.

The Guard's staff, in addition to the $12,000-a-year director, includes a research director, an auditor, a publicity man, two secretaries and a messenger. Headquarters is in the first floor of a big old frame house a few blocks off Main Street. It has a neon sign to make clear its location and its open operations.

The dues were put at $5 per family unit. The Guard now claims a membership of about 4000, in about 2500 family units. That means about $12,500 from memberships. The Guard decided it would take no money from corporations or business firms. But several individuals have contributed $1000 apiece, others $500, $200, $100, $50, $20, $10.

It was decided to organize from the bottom up, instead of from the top down. There are 65 precincts in the 14 townships of Madison County. The average precinct had about 600 to 800 voters. In a few rural areas, the township was the precinct. In the city the precincts took in 10 to 20 city blocks.

The big job was educational, and it was aimed at the May primary. What were the officers to be elected—what did they do? What were their salaries? How long were they elected for? What did a congressman do, a circuit court judge, the prosecuting attorney, the state legislators, the county clerk, recorder and commissioners, the township trustees, justice of the peace, constable?

Next, who were the candidates? Their names, their records? Here the American Guard decided to publish a "Voters' Manual." It is a 56-page pamphlet. I'm told that when the Guard took the copy for this manual to one Indianapolis print shop, U.A.W.-C.I.O. headquarters in Detroit called up the printer and told him if he took the job, he would never get any more union business. He passed it up. But another union shop took it, and the booklet came out with a union label.

ONE other statistic offered is that of 18 candidates endorsed by the C.I.O.-P.A.C.—15 Democrats and three Republicans—six were nominated and 12 were defeated.

The C.I.O. union papers blasted the American Guard at every chance. Shop and local union newspapers criticized the Guard and radio time was taken to criticize it.

The Guard claimed it endorsed no candidates of either party. There may have been some cheating on this. But the effort was made to keep the whole campaign bi-partisan.

The information collected by the Guard was turned over to educational leaders, meeting directors, telephone assistants and correspondents appointed for each of the 65 precincts and smaller units.

The result of all this awakening of public interest spoke for itself in the primary election last May. Fifty-six per cent of Madison County's eligible voters went to the polls. This was higher than any of Indiana's 92 counties. In the 1948 primary the turn-out in Madison County was only 33 per cent of the voters.

NEXT: What the American Guard stands for and its prospects for state and national association.

HOT, FIERY GAS

Stomach Like a Furnace

A Warren man said recently that his stomach used to burn like a "gas factory." That is, when he ate a meal it seemed to turn right into hot gas. He was always bloated, had gas pains daily. But now this man says he is FREE of STOMACH GAS and he says the change is due to taking CERTA-VIN. His meals agree with him. CERTA-VIN is a new formula. Taken before meals it works with your food, expels the gas, and thus you get the fullest good out of your meals. It contains Ten Great Herbs, plus vitamin B and Iron. Besides relieving gas, it also enriches the blood (with iron) and makes stronger nerves (with vitamin B). Miserable people soon feel better all over. So don't go on suffering! Get CERTA-VIN at your favorite drug store. —adv.

State Association Honors Lander Man

Lander, June 20—Robert Sukoski, of Lander, who is the delegate from the Upper Allegheny Unit, Pennsylvania Young Farmers Association, was named chairman of the state nominating committee at the mid-term session of the state organization when it convened at State College.

This group receives and selects nominations for state elections to be held during the January meeting in Harrisburg. Nominees will be posted four months in advance of that election.

On his return from State College, Sukoski reported encouraging progress on the part of the state organization in its endeavor to secure continuation of on-the-farm training for Pennsylvania veterans, under a modified state-sponsored setup.

He states that Gov. Duff has already asked a member of the education department to draw up a tentative training program, awaiting necessary appropriations from the 1951 legislature.

Senate To Vote On Plan To Expand On Security Program

Washington, June 20—(P)—The senate begins voting this afternoon on a politically popular plan to expand the social security program.

There was no doubt expressed in advance that the senate would follow the lead of the house and vote increased old age and survivors benefits, and enlarge the number of workers covered by the law. The bill would add about 10,000,000 workers to the 35,000,000 now under the law.

The only questions revolved around amendments, and the senate finance committee called a closed session in an effort to agree on a committee stand on these. The idea was to hasten action to get the final bill approved before the Senate quits tonight.

The bill would increase monthly benefits to current beneficiaries an average of 85 to 90 per cent and would approximately double the amounts payable to persons retiring in the future. The house-passed bill differs in details.

First to be voted on was a largely unopposed amendment providing for a finance committee study of the possibility of eventually having a pay-as-you-go social security system applying to everybody. At present, benefit payments come from a reserve built up by employee and employer contributions.

orage, Alaska, where he spent four years with the Army Engineers.

From accounts of the tragedy pieced together by authorities, young Harold had gone fishing with an 8-year-old companion, Michael Flynn, of Ohio Avenue.

When Harold, who could not swim, tumbled into the water, about 6:45 p. m., Michael ran up to notify an older boy playing on the tennis court beside the beach, who dashed over to the fire hall several blocks away.

Firemen used two and a half tanks of oxygen in the heart-breaking attempt to revive him. Coroner Samuel Bowers issued a verdict of accidental death.

Rescue operations were directed by Fire Chief Carl Hannigan.

A week ago Sunday, Harold's parents celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at a party given by George.

Born Dec. 10, 1940, in Jamestown, Harold was a member of the Sunday School of the Lakewood Methodist church. Other survivors include three aunts, Mrs. Frank Smith, of Warren, Miss Gertrude White, of Kinzua, and Mrs. Teresa Eggleston, of West Townsend, Mass.

The new retail price in Philadelphia, suburban Philadelphia and Reading would be 20 cents. A 19-cent price has been in effect since March 1. For the other three areas, the July price would be 19 1/2 cents instead of the present 18 1/2 cents.

If it goes through, excises now imposed will be slashed—probably on September 1—on fur coats, movies, jewelry, travel tickets, luggage, telephones, tires, tubes, baby bottle warmers and scores of other items.

The big corporation tax boost, if approved by house and senate, would just about cover completely the estimated $1,010,000,000 excise cut.

ant factor in building peace. Acheson said that while this program would be a moderate one, the results "will make a great contribution."

Congress has authorized $35,000,000 to initiate the program but has yet to appropriate the money.

Acheson urged congress to give quick approval and deplored what he said were "narrow isolationist" attacks on the bill.

The secretary put the governors on notice that the administration may borrow some of their experienced state officials under the program.

Gov. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania told a reporter in advance of Acheson's talk that he hoped to find out what the Truman administration proposes to do about halting the advance of Communism in Asia. Duff is a Republican candidate for the senate this fall.

Acheson's "point four" discussion did not go into this broad question.

Paul C. Hoffman, the Economic Cooperation Administrator, hinted in a speech at the annual state dinner of the governors last night that there may be such a plan in the making.

THE MARKETS

New York, June 20—(P)—A dribble of selling was enough to push the stock market a little lower today. Losses were mostly fractional, only a few reaching a point or more. A limited number of leaders managed to make a little progress. Trading started off in brisk fashion but quickly slowed. Skippy demand was linked in some quarters to approval by the house ways and means committee of a measure to boost the corporate tax rate.

'Good Dates' Don't Always Become the Best Husbands

THREE 17-year-olds enclosed in a recent letter to me a list of qualities which they believe make a good date. In the order in which they wrote them down, they are: Tall, good-looking, good dancer, self-assured, knows how to have a good time.

That is, perhaps, fairly typical of what a girl of 17 considers a "good date."

The only trouble is, a lot of girls—particularly those who marry young—confuse those qualities as the important ones in a good husband.

But the best husbands often don't come from the list of boys who are considered the best dates.

The best husbands are just as likely, if not more likely, to come from the ranks of the "not good-looking but terribly smart," or "terribly shy but nice when you get to know him," or "kind of funny-looking and a terrible dancer—but a wonderful sense of humor"—and many other such categories into which marriage-minded girls pigeon-hole the young men they meet.

OTHER QUALITIES NEEDED AFTER MARRIAGE

NOT that there's anything wrong with a young man's being tall, good-looking, a good dancer, and self-assured. But if those are his main assets, he is better date-material than husband-material.

Once a girl marries she is more interested in a man's disposition than in his looks, more concerned with his brains and ability than with his self-assurance, more impressed with the qualities that make him a good companion at home than with those which make him the life of the party when they go out.

Not only girls, however, make the frequent mistake of confusing the qualities that make a good date with those that make a good mate. Young men often do it, too, and then can't understand why a "flamboyant" girl doesn't necessarily turn into the kind of wife a young man needs.

Three Youngville Bible Schools Close

Youngville, June 20—Three very well attended and successful Bible schools came to a close with the Friday morning session.

The EUB and Methodist union school held a picnic at noon on Island Park and in the evening a fine program was presented in the former church. Rev. Harold Lindquist, dean of the school, presided and Rev. E. W. Chitester conducted devotions.

Program features included songs, recitations, Bible verses, picture lessons by beginners, with a special song, "Praise Him, Praise Him, Little Children." Teachers of each department presented the pupils and some of the work which has been done in the two-week period.

The primary department, in addition to songs, recitations and Bible verses, gave some missionary stories; juniors had a fine exercise in which they answered questions concerning the life of Jesus, and sang a Benediction Song; older boys gave a recitation the 14th chapter of John, had a trumpet solo, joined in a number of songs, and the girls did Biblical questions, introduced by pictures.

The Free Methodist church had an equally good school, with a Friday picnic held at the National Forge picnic grounds and a program given by the pupils in the church Sunday.

The Lutheran school covered the same period, with a fine Bible course of instruction. Their picnic was held Thursday on Island Park, with a program in the church Friday evening to show the work accomplished by the pupils and some good music.

Bowers of Jamestown who issued a certificate of accidental death placed the time of the fatality at 2:45 p. m. He advanced the theory that the youth became ill and fell unconscious into the stream which is about three feet deep at the point where his body was discovered. Other members of the party told the coroner they missed the young man some time after he had left them to fish farther down the stream. Starting a search they found him at 4 o'clock about a half-mile from the Groters road.

SMOKY JOE
By W. F. BRAGG

Chapter 32
NEVADA KATE walked coolly from the wings. She wore a gorgeous red silk dressing gown and carried a sawed-off shotgun. She broke the gun and blew the smoke from the barrel she had fired. Then stepping daintily over the judge's twitching frame, she handed the gun to Joe.
"You're under arrest for murder, Kate," Hard Hat Bulvane said hoarsely, and seized Kate's arm.
"You lie," said Smoky Joe, and knocked Hard Hat into the footlights. "She had every right to gun him. You see, this Pecos Shay was Kate's husband. And I reckon," his eyes sought Connie in the front row, "if there's such a thing as love, she must have loved him."
Kate nodded, dry-eyed. "I went up and searched the judge's office for the gun," she said, "after you come up tonight and told me how Pecos had cashed in. I reckon it's the right gun."
Joe nodded. "My dad's sawed-off."
"So if there's nothin' else, boys," Kate waved gaily to the audience, "my girls and I will be headin' for Frisco on the first stage out of town. Before I go," she was smiling as she faced Joe, "that was all a joke about you shootin' me in the arm. Pecos got me by accident. Same for big Turk. But the judge thought it would be cute to trade guns on you."
And so Nevada Kate stepped out of public life in Rawhide Gap. Pack Rogan sought to depart with her, aided by Judge Groner. Groner slid out of the wings and pitched a gun across the stage to Pack.
"Catch!" he yelled.
Whisperin' Johnson came running out and belted Pudge over the head with his rifle barrel. Pudge went down with a grunt. But Pack had a gun in his hand now. And desperately he turned on Smoky Joe.
"I know my hand's played out," he said hoarsely. "That blasted law shark roped me into the deal. I shoulda stayed with stud poker. But I don't figure to decorate no hang rope for anybody!" And he began firing as he finished talking.
All Smoky Joe heard above the long roll of the thundering Colts, as he walked straight down the center of the stage, was the shrill scream of Connie Hale. He saw the greenish face and the slitted eyes of Pack Rogan rising above coils of smoke. And then the eyes were no longer there. And somehow Connie was on the stage and her arms were around him.
Hard Hat Bulvane lay groaning in the footlight trough. A stray bullet had taken him from the rear as he sought to jump out of line from Rogan's blazing gun. He hadn't been killed.
"Now this town," said old Pap McDevitt, mounting the stage, "will need a new sheriff. Us McDevitts, to put ourselves in the clear for bustin' into your jail and takin' out a nice girl, will throw that Lost Creek water right into your fool ditch company. We'll keep you from goin' busted on one condition."
"Name it!" roared the crowd.
"Here comes Shorty Dike! Put him in as your next sheriff!"
Two McDevitts led Shorty down the center aisle. They were trailed by Monty and Jane.
"Dike for sheriff!" yelled the crowd.
SHORTY stared, amazed. Smoky Joe was on the stage with a girl in his arms. Rogan and Pecos Shay were there also, but now at rest. Whisperin' Johnson stood guard over Pudge Groner. He belov'd to Shorty, "How long do I have to stand here guardin' your prisoner, Sheriff? Come on up and do your duty! Escort this fat miscreant to your calaboose."
"What's your hurry?" Shorty sputtered. "You ain't goin' nowhere. You still got a sentence to serve for bein' drunk and disorderly. An' bustin' the sheriff's hat." "I'll buy him a dozen hats. And then you and me'll go to jail, Shorty. And we'll both be drunk and disorderly this time. Genuine drunk and disorderly." He tromped over and slapped Joe on the shoulder. Connie whipped around and suddenly planted a wet kiss under the right wing of Whisperin's hatched mustache.
"You old darling," said Connie. Whisperin' fell back into Shorty's arms, his flour sack bandage tilted down over one eye. Then, with a yell, he turned and grabbed Shorty and cut a pigeon wing.
"Drink tonight on Whisperin' Johnson!" he bellowed. "Cut her high wide and handsome. Drink to the bright eyes of two fine brides. And two fine sprouts that's gettin' em for better or worse. Monty McDevitt! And Smoky Joe Munro!"
His yell echoed back from the walls and the crowd took it up in one vast roar while Joe stood shaking hands with his old partner. "Smoky Joe! Smoky Joe!"

Warren Meres Defeat Ironmen In Overtime Sunset League Tilt

Warren Merchants clung to the top rung of the Sunset Baseball League ladder after beating off a determined Hammond Iron squad, 5-2, in two extra innings before a large crowd at the State Hospital field last night.

Sons of Italy also continued their winning ways by downing the Conewango Township Merchants, 7-4, at King field.

A third league scrap ended in an 11-2 triumph for Tiona over Suppa Studebakers of Youngsville at Memorial field. It was Tiona's initial triumph in Sunset League competition.

Hammonds took a 2-0 lead in the fourth frame, Brooks started it off with a walk, Ed Shanshala had a bunt single, and two runs tallied on an error by Juliano and a single by L. Hartweg.

The Warren Meres got two runs back in the next inning on a single by Don Sharp, a triple by Bob Hammerbeck and a sacrifice by Bennett.

There the score stuck until the last half of the second extra inning when Tom Juliano smacked a three-base blow and scored on a wild pitch.

Smoky Bennett, the winning pitcher, was credited with 11 strikeouts, while Rod Kerchner, Hammond moundman, had seven.

The linescore showed 3 runs on 5 hits and 2 errors for the Merchants, and 2 runs on 4 hits and 2 errors for Hammond Iron.

Umpires were Massa and Le-Troy. Paul Smith pitched a neat five-hitter and struck out six men to lead the Sons of Italy to victory. It was his fourth win of the season. Fred Gray, Conewango Merchants' chucker, was nipped for 11 safeties, including doubles by White and Castagnino, but eight errors by his team led to his downfall.

Sons of Italy scored single tallies in the first, third and fifth frames, but a four-run spurge in the fourth iced the game. In that inning Nobles singled, Smith was safe on an error, and White singled to score Nobles. Smith was nipped at the plate on a nice throw by Gnago Mason fanned. Then Castagnino doubled to score White by Whitaker, and he in turn raced across the platter on wild throws by J. Gray and Johnson.

Conewango Merchants punched across two runs in the fifth when Sidon walked, and F. Gray and Huckabone singled. The Meres got another rally going in the seventh after two men were out. Simpson, batting for Sidon, and F. Gray hit singles, and they both scored on an error by White Jones popped up to Berdine to end the game.

The linescore showed 7 runs on 11 hits and 2 errors from Sons of Italy and 4 runs on 5 hits and eight errors for Conewango.

The sixth annual Old Timers' baseball game, sponsored by the Warren Kiwanis Club for the benefit of their crippled children's fund will be staged on Warren's Memorial Field, Saturday, July 29. Festivities will start at 2:00 p. m. when the pick of Warren's Midget Leaguers, all twelve years of age or under, will stack their bats against the best youngsters of the same class from Jamestown. When the smoke of this five inning battle clears away, Warren's Old Timers will engage the Jamestown Past Greats for the second time this year.

The first meeting will take place at Jamestown Municipal Stadium, Sunday, July 16 at 2:00 p. m., this game will also be preceded by a game between an all-star Warren and Jamestown aggregation of midget leaguers, and will be sponsored by the Jamestown Kiwanis Club for a crippled children's charitable cause. Jamestown's Kiwanians are going all out this year to make this event one of the best attractions of the season by staging, in conjunction with the two baseball games, a drum corps competition, thus adding color to an annual event designed to bring hope to many youngsters.

The selection of a representative team of midget all stars will be in the hands of Charley Musante and his co-workers. In the event that each team wins a game, a playoff game will be necessary to determine the sectional championship. A toss of a coin will decide in which city the third game will be played.

Police Receiving Reports of More Church Robberies

Reports continue to come in at Warren police headquarters of the burglarizing of churches and public libraries in the section, similar to the robberies here last Tuesday in the First Baptist church, the First Methodist church, the First Presbyterian church and the Warren Public Library.

Similar edifies in Oil City were entered on the same night as the Warren burglaries, and the following night, entries were made in two churches and the public library at Bradford.

Some days previously, churches at Kane and Johnsonburg were burglarized. In no case did the thieves receive any large amount of money, although, as in Warren, considerable damage was done.

Police of the area towns, piecing together small bits of information obtained in each place, have a few slim leads which are being followed up.

Newspaper Ads Are Termed Greatest Ally of Merchants

Harrisburg—(AP)—A newspaper advertising conference was told Saturday that "newspaper advertising is the merchants' greatest ally."

Charles A. Detweiler, retail advertising manager of the Philadelphia Bulletin, made the statement in an address before the 1950 advertising conference of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers association.

"Nothing on earth interests a good merchant as much as his business and ways to build it soundly and profitably," Detweiler stated. "Newspaper advertising is the merchants' greatest ally but in order to tailor it to his needs newspaper advertising salesmen must have a knowledge of retailing."

At the same time, Detweiler declared that "if we are to grow and increase the use of newspaper advertising we must, as do all forward-looking and reputable firms, be certain that the advertiser gets the benefits for which he is looking."

Some 150 advertising men from all parts of the state gathered here today for the two-day conference.

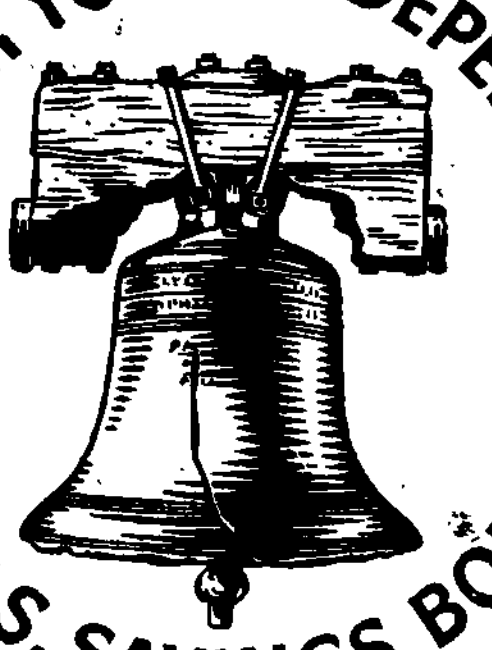

Library Board Plans Drive For Members

In addition to routine affairs taken up at last night's meeting of the Warren Public Library board, there was considerable discussion of the necessity of building up the membership of the Warren Library Association.

While no concerted membership drive has been staged in many years, it is the hope of the board that individuals in the community will become more interested in the library and its affairs and join the association. Details concerning membership may be had at the library desk and it is particularly desired that young people become interested.

Among routine reports submitted was that of the librarian, Jeanne B. Lopez, showing circulation figures for the month of 23,739 volumes.

Securities Professionally Selected

Wouldn't you feel much better about your investments if you knew that every security had been selected after careful comparison with other similar issues and after careful analysis by professional investment research men? After all to sift the more than 8,000 listed securities and to mention the nearly 20,000 unlisted issues... is more than any one person can do.

Mutual Investment Funds employ many research men to study, analyze and investigate the different issues as well as the different industries so that the funds may own those, which in their opinion, are the safest and most promising.

An investment in a group of 100 different companies should be much safer and, in the long run, more profitable than in only one or two companies.

Honor Student At Dickinson Is Son Of Former Residents

The distinction of being the first Dickinson College student designated as most outstanding member of his class for three consecutive years goes to Robert E. Berry, of Lansdowne, son of Russell H. and Miriam Wales Berry, formerly of Warren.

The Carlisle Evening Sentinel says of him:

He received the 1902 Award, a gold watch, this afternoon as the outstanding junior by a vote of the class. He won the Skull and Key Award as a freshman, the Omicron Delta Kappa Award the next year. Lewis M. Bacon, Jr., a member of the donor class and a trustee of the college, presented the '02 Award at Senior Day festivities on the campus.

Berry is junior president, heads the Little Theater and Omicron Delta Kappa, activities honorary; is vice president of Alpha Psi Omega, dramatic honorary, and of his fraternity, Phi Kappa Sigma.

Winner of declamation prizes at high school and college, he is the campus best actor and has directed the Dickinson Follies for two years. He is a varsity swimmer, has served on the staffs of the campus newspaper and year book and played in the band.

A pre-medical student and active in campus religious affairs, Berry has hopes to become a Methodist medical missionary. He has never missed inclusion on the dean's list and next term will do honors work in biology.

MILK BRIGADE—A Pittsburgh district storekeeper who defied striking milkmen to import milk for children had his store window broken during the night. KEEP YOUR KITCHEN with a wonderful new Electric RANGE

Cool and Clean

Your kitchen is cooler . . . and cleaner when your range is electric. It's cooler and cleaner because there's no flame to send heat shimmering about . . . nor fumes to streak walls and soil curtains. When you cook the flameless electric way, you use a measured amount of heat, just enough and no more, that goes right where it belongs . . . into the food you are cooking. And you, like millions of other women, will find the cooking results are wonderful. You need no longer serve your family skimpy hot-weather meals for there's a cool, clean way to serve delicious dinners—full of energy and done to a turn.

And, of course, it's Electric.

Before you buy, investigate all the advantages of the automatic electric range. There's a size and model for every home—for every pocketbook.

INSPECT THE NEW Electric RANGES AT YOUR DEALERS THIS VERY WEEK.

DON'T BE FOOLED!

WARTIME EXCISE TAXES WILL NOT BE REPEALED OR REDUCED

UNLESS

CONGRESS FIRST FINDS REPLACEMENT REVENUE BY TAXING THE UNTAXED

The politicians—in an election year—are trying to fool you into believing they are trying to repeal or reduce wartime excise "nuisance" taxes that you are still required to pay on everyday needs and minor luxuries.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN HAS AGAIN FLATLY STATED HE WILL VETO ANY EXCISE TAX CUT UNLESS CONGRESS REPLACES THE LOST REVENUE BY CLOSING EXISTING TAX LOOPHOLES OR BY INCREASING INCOME TAX RATES.

Any proposed legislation that purports to repeal or reduce excise taxes without FIRST making up the lost revenue is just so much eyewash intended purposely to fool you and give the politicians an "out" in an election year. Furthermore, closing tax loopholes will produce more than enough NEW revenue to balance the loss resulting from excise repeal or reduction—NO INCREASE IN INCOME TAXES IS NEEDED.

DON'T BE FOOLED!

Dr. R. E. Lowe, chairman of the Blood Bank Medical Advisory committee, with other Red Cross officials, takes this opportunity to thank the above blood donors. Dr. Lowe says: "We need more people like you. You have given blood through the Red Cross and you know that your pint of blood will go a long way. Some man, woman or child will be grateful to have it or no cost for the blood. We'll need the help of thousands of men and women like yourselves — healthy people between the ages of 21 and 60 who want to do their part to help the ill and the injured. Some people may not know that it is perfectly safe to give a pint of blood, even several times a year; that making a blood donation takes less than an hour; that it's a pretty wonderful feeling to have given a part of yourself to save someone else's life. You know all this—will you tell your friends? The next scheduled visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile to Warren is July 12. Get ready now."
